120 - years old tradition of making Slavonian oak barrels in Đurđenovac

The barrels are made from Slavonian oak (type of oak long-lasting durability). This oak wood is well known as one of the best European wood types for technical use (furniture, tables, chairs, and other durable elements) as well as for production barrels for alcoholic beverages (wine, beer, whiskey, cognac, rum, fruit brandy, cider, calvados, vinegar, ...)

Oak - fire - bent staves.

The barrels are stored in clean and dry warehouse, and packed immediately after completion in plastic wrapping.

SLAVONIAN OAK INNER STAVES (STICKS) THIS PRODUCT IS USE IN OLD OAK BARRELS AND INOX CONTAINERS

STICK TOASTING LEVEL - M (medium)

Pepel-co oak sticks are made exclusively from Slavonian oak sourced from mixed forestes throughout Slavonia. Only the two species of oak best suited for sticks production are used, Quercus Petraea and Quercus Robur.

There are same species of oak found growing fourteen hundreded miles west of Slavonia in the forestes of France.

Left in the open air, for a minimum of 2 years the oak staves for sticks production are naturally seasoned by the wind, sun and rain.

Harsh tannins, esters and other impurities are purged out during this proces.

Consequently, our oak sticks are produced from top quality staves with superior flavor !
